Civil society and youth on the road to Bali's 10th World Water Forum

Workshop

The International Secretariat for Water (ISW) alongside the Bali Youth Parliament for Water, the WASH Network Indonesia and Muhammadiyah are pleased to invite you to their two-day workshop to be held at Swiss-Belinn Wahid Hasyim Hotel, Jakarta, Indonesia on February 28 and 29th.

As part of the civil society and youth mobilization for the 10th World Water Forum to be held in Bali, Indonesia from May 18 to 25, 2024, we are organizing a workshop to raise awareness on water-related issues in Indonesia and the wider sub-region and mobilize civil society and youth towards the Forum.

The World Water Forum – water sector's flagship momentum, organized every 3 years by the World Water Council and a host country – represents a unique opportunity for civil society and youth to mobilize and exert influence for a just and sustainable world where the human right to water is guaranteed, water resources managed properly, and the environment preserved.

The environmental and societal challenges facing Asian countries, including Indonesia, are enormous, and are exacerbated by ongoing climate change. More than ever, it is essential that civil society and young people are involved in the search for and implementation of solutions and are a force for proposing public policies that are equal to the challenges.

This workshop aims at:

- Mobilizing civil society organization, including youth, from Indonesia and the wider sub-region in the lead up to the 10th World Water Forum
- Informing civil society and young people about the different processes of the World Water Forum and present opportunities for concrete involvement in the Forum
- Ensuring and coordinating youth participation from the sub-region during the Forum, contribution to the Bali Youth Plan
- Raising awareness and providing information on water and climate issues, as well as effective courses of action
- Strengthening partnerships with Indonesian and sub-regional actors to implement innovative initiatives following the Forum

This event is funded by the Swiss Agency for Development & Cooperation and l'Agence de l'eau Artois-Picardie.

Venue

Swiss-Belinn Wahid Hasyim, Jakarta, Indonesia.
